Holland Roofing Marks 20 Years of Success with Substantial Growth, a Superior Work Force, and Quality Service

Florence KY, February 10, 2006 – Holland Roofing celebrated their 20th anniversary this past month. Founded by Hans Philippo in 1986, the Florence based roofing company grew from 10 employees with $1.8 million in revenue to over 400 employees at 11 affiliate offices with revenue of over $50 million. Holland Roofing has garnered such a copious level of success within the industry primarily because of its focus on providing superior quality to its customers and to its employees.

Founder and CEO, Hans Philippo, has cited what sustains his motivation as the company's leader is "growing the people that work at Holland Roofing and making them feel part of the company. Those employees which have excelled at this company have been my greatest source of satisfaction." This management style transcends the company's firm foundation of its work force, enabling Holland Roofing to become a strong competitor within the industry, all the while staying true to its corporate values of hard work, honesty, dealing with good vendors, and buying the best products. In keeping with its current path and establishing solid long-term goals such as being the number one company to be associated with; be it employee, vendor, or customer; Holland Roofing is well on its way to another 20 years of success.

Holland Roofing has successfully been installing and repairing commercial roofs since 1986. With its corporate headquarters in the Greater Cincinnati area, Holland Roofing provides service to its clients throughout the Midwest and Southeastern regions of the United States. According to Engineering News Record, Holland Roofing ranks in the top ten roofing firms and as the 6th largest in the United States. Holland Roofing provides superior customer service through its expertise and highly skilled work force.
